MADE RIGHT BEFORE GOD

Although the opening lines of today's first reading claim that the Lord "knows no favorites" (Sirach 35:15) and is "not unduly partial toward the weak" (35:16), the remainder of the passage makes it clear that the Lord does indeed pay special attention to the weak, the oppressed, and the orphans and widows. The psalmist reiterates: "The Lord hears the cry of the poor" (see Psalm 34:18). In the Gospel, Jesus claims that a tax collector is more justified in his prayer for mercy than the Pharisee, whose prayer was an account of his own righteous deeds. Jesus' point could not have been clearer: tax collectors in the Jewish society of Jesus' day were not just lowly; they were considered outcasts and cheaters. They collected taxes for the hated Romans and almost certainly collected enough to assure a generous income for themselves. Tax collectors were among society's outcasts; didn't this one just admit his own sinfulness? How could a tax collector be "justified" (that is, made right) before God, while the Pharisee was not? Why would God even listen to the prayer of a tax collector? This surely was a surprise, upsetting common assumptions about righteousness. Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

From the Desk of Fr. Dan

I had a number of people ask me about the "Examination of Conscience" I mentioned during my "Mass lesson" last weekend. Although I tried to make it easy to remember, I thought I would share it here in my bulletin article so you can take it home and make use of it. Socrates famously said, "The unexamined life is not worth living." Although Socrates was not Catholic, the Catholic Church has had a long tradition of having believers make an examination of conscience. Usually, we think to do this before we come to confession. However, a more frequent examination helps us to be more aware of what's going on in our lives and where God is and is not present; whether I am moving toward God or away from Him; and if I need to make a big change in my life or just keep on going. The best time to do an examination of conscience is at the end of the day. If you're like me, the end of the day is hard to give to God. So, I find that simpler examinations can be more effective…because we might actually take the time to do them if they don't take too long. So, I propose to you the…

Three Minute Examination of Conscience™

Minute 1: answer the question: "Where was God present in my day?"
A good examination of conscience is not just about the negative. It is also about knowing where God was acting and where you were cooperating with Him and doing His will. If the minute is up and you don't get through the whole day, that's fine – just move onto…

Minute 2: answer the question "Where was God absent in my day?"
God is not absent because He decided not to show up. He is absent when we turn our backs on Him. When we sin, God is not there. During this minute, think about the moments when you did not do what you should have done and when God was missing.

Minute 3: answer the question "Where do I need God in my day tomorrow?"
If the first two minutes were reflective, this one is anticipatory. This is a chance to invite God into the next day and ask Him to be present in particular moments that bring us temptation or worry.

At first, stick with the three minutes only. Over time, maybe you'll want to spend more time doing this to be more comprehensive. You should also start to notice patterns in your behavior. "God seems to be most present when I'm doing this…" Maybe it's when you're at a particular place or with particular people. That should tell you something about yourself and what is helping you to stay close to God. Or, "God seems to be absent when I'm doing this…" This should also tell you something about yourself and maybe something in your life that needs to change.

I am confident that doing this daily examination of conscience will help you grow in holiness of life and in your relationship with God.

Prayer for a baby in her mother's womb

God of all creation, nurture and protect this tiny child and keep her safe in the sanctuary of her mother's womb. As you so wondrously form her heart and mind and lungs and soul, so strengthen our will to lovingly nurture and protect her. Give us the eyes to see her as our sister, the minds to welcome her as our own, and the faith to defend her as your child. We ask this through the intercession of Mary, our Blessed Mother, and the mother of all the little ones, through Christ, your Son, our Lord. Amen

In commemoration of All Souls Day, all are invited to join a group of friends and parishioners Sunday, October 30th at 12noon at Transfiguration Cemetery Chapel to recite the Rosary to remember our deceased loved ones.

This weekend October 22 & 23 we celebrate World Mission Sunday in the parishes of our diocese. Even as we may struggle with challenges here at home, on World Mission Sunday, we are called to remember, in a special way, the great needs of the Church, and her life-giving service, in the Developing World. We should encourage prayer, personal sacrifice and generous financial support for more than 1,150 dioceses throughout Asia, Africa, the Pacific Islands, and remote regions of Latin America. Please be as generous as you can in the second collection for the missions that will be taken up at all Masses this weekend.

BECOMING CATHOLIC
Order of Christian Initiation of Adults

How does a person "become Catholic?" More than classes or something to accomplish, the process of becoming Catholic is a journey. If you are curious about how to become Catholic, you can join us every Thursday as we gather 6:30 to 8 PM in St. Pius Youth Ministry Room. Led by members of our community, we unpack the wonders of the Catholic Faith. If you, or someone you know is interested or even just a little curious, contact Christy in the parish office, or via email at ccabaniss@dioceseofgreensburg.org

We always welcome new faces!

This Friday, October 28, is the Feast of SS. Simon and Jude.

The scriptures say very little about either Simon or Jude, the two apostles whose feasts are celebrated today. In the gospel of Luke, Simon is called a zealot. A zealot is a person of strong beliefs and actions. In those days there was a radical group among the Jews called the Zealots. These radicals hated the Romans for taking control of Israel. They wanted to remove the invaders by force. However, in Simon's case the word zealot may have meant that he took the Jewish law very seriously. According to legends, Simon the Zealot spread the gospel in Egypt. In the gospels of Matthew and Mark, Jude is called Thaddeus. We call him Jude to distinguish him from Judas Iscariot, who betrayed Jesus. He is called the patron saint of hopeless cases. It is believed that Jude and Simon each traveled to Persia, where they were martyred. Their bodies were carried to Rome for burial in St. Peter's. Today's feast comes just before All Saint's Day. There are old customs for today that are about getting ready for "Hallowtide." It was once a custom today to go from door to door begging for the ingredients of "soul cakes," which were eaten in early November as a way to share a meal with the dead. People would sing, "For the love of Simon and Jude, give us fixings for our food!"

This Monday, October 24th is the Feast Day of St. Anthony Mary Claret, Bishop, Religious Founder (1807-1870)

Anthony Mary Claret had been a weaver in Barcelona in Spain. He traveled all over the country for ten years preaching parish missions. The missions went so well that he gathered five young men to do this work with him. They were called the Missionary Sons of the Immaculate Heart of Mary (now called the Claretians). During this time, Anthony's fame spread. Against his will, he was called away from his work for a tough assignment as bishop of Santiago in Cuba. The diocese covered half the island. In the eight years he spent there, he began new parishes, started religious education and worked to reform the priests of the diocese. He also began credit unions to loan money to the poor. He had such an effect on Santiago that to this day he is called the spiritual father of Cuba. Many of the problems in Cuba were caused by racism and slavery. The church there did not treat black people as human beings. Anthony insisted that interracial marriages were valid marriages. In those days a few wealthy farmers forced the people to grow only one crop-sugar cane. That way the people had to buy all their food and supplies from the rich. People became trapped in poverty. Anthony believed that the country should be made up of small family farms so that people could produce their own food. His efforts to help the poor made him so unpopular that 15 attempts were made on his life. Moves and upheaval continued through Anthony's life, yet he found time to write over 200 books and pamphlets. He began a publishing house in Spain. He died in exile in France at the age of 63.

All Souls Preparation

Looking ahead we can see on the Liturgical Calendar that Wednesday, November 2, is the Feast of All Souls Day. The Masses for that day will be 7am at Visitation Church and 6pm at St. Pius X Church. At our 6pm Mass, we will remember in a special way, all of our parishioners from our parishes who died since Oct. 24, 2021, by reading a roll call and lighting a candle in their memory. We ask all the families of those parishioners to make an effort to be present. These families should have received a special invitation in the mail. It is a holy and pious thought to pray for the dead.
