*From the Desk
of
Fr. Dan*

Lately, there has been a lot of news about the issue of in-vitro fertilization (IVF). The Supreme Court in Alabama has declared that frozen embryos created through IVF can be considered children under state law, which has caused a heated discussion and debate on the issue. It could seem that for all our anti-abortion beliefs, we as Catholics should have no problems with those who want to have children. The trouble is that children are not a commodity. Children deserve to be brought into this world as the result of an expression of love between a husband and wife that is blessed by God and made fruitful. Donum Vitae (1987) explains:

If the technical means facilitates the conjugal act or helps it to reach its natural objectives, it can be morally acceptable. If, on the other hand, the procedure were to replace the conjugal act, it is morally illicit.

Not only does IVF replace the intimate act of husband and wife, but it completely removes the process of conception from the body of the woman. Therefore, it is morally wrong in every instance.

The greatest evil of IVF is not merely this. Because IVF is so expensive (~$15,000-$30,000 for one cycle), they will conceive more than one embryo at once. Then, they will choose which embryo seems most likely to survive implantation. If one doesn't survive, they will try another. If the couple conceives with the first embryo, the others are kept frozen in case they want more children in the future. If they do not want more children, the embryos are discarded.

There are a few injustices happening here. First, the child is basically purchased at a steep cost. No one should put a price on having a child. They are gifts and IVF threatens that outlook. Second, with IVF you can choose the gender and potentially other desirable characteristics. No parent can say to his or her child "I made you." God made them. With IVF, the creation process gets twisted. We are supposed to accept our children as they are, not choose how we want them to be. Finally, the embryos not chosen to be implanted are discarded, unwanted by their parents. This is a grave injustice in the same way that abortion is.

I want to end with a couple of things. First, I am grievously sad for couples who cannot conceive children. It is a great sadness, and the Church offers to help in whatever way we can. If any parishioner struggles with this, please reach out. We have resources that can help. Second, a child conceived through IVF or other morally illicit means is no less a child of God than anyone else, even if the conditions of their conception went against their dignity. Third, regardless of political affiliations, we all need to strive to build a culture of life where every human person, from conception to natural death, is given the dignity they deserve as children of God.

*Notes from our Administrator,
Fr. Paul:*

THE UNFOLDING MESSAGE: THE POWER TO HEAL

There is a lot of brokenness in our world. People and structures need healing. We need it ourselves. Healing was an important part of Jesus' mission and also of our own, if we are responsive and faithful followers. Sharing with Jesus day after day, His disciples came to understand this.

Jesus, Himself, was a "whole" person. He had "gotten it all together." He knew who He was and what He wanted to accomplish. Some of His healing power came from His own wellness. The woman, who was healed just by touching the edge of Jesus' robe, sensed this inner power. Few, if any, of us today would claim to have this ability. Yet, many of us can remember times, when someone's presence with us made a difference that was almost miraculous. Warm, loving people often have a healing presence.

Amidst the variety of callings that life presents to us, this one comes to everyone. Whether we are a business magnate or a school custodian, secretary or homemaker, we are surrounded by men, women and children who need healing. The disciples watched Jesus heal and restore a variety of people. They, themselves, did so at times. Jesus looks to all of us to find wholeness for ourselves and let it flow over to others. Although we may not have the power to touch them and have them suddenly be well, we can be with them. We can touch their spirits with caring and love. We can listen and psychologically wipe away their tears.

One effective remedy we can offer is a spirit of acceptance. We need to remember that, under God, whatever a person's weaknesses or problems may be, all of us are of value—precious. The old recommendation of feeling "I'm ok, you're ok" is bolstered by realization that God makes us ok people, and seeks to bring us back, if we wander. Healers: Jesus, disciples, you and me! All of us, even in the midst of our own needs, can help to heal others. Giving aid to them, often we find our own pain relieved.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE Girl Scout Sunday. We recognize all the Brownies, Juniors, Cadets & Senior Scouts and their leaders from our parishes. Girl Scouting is a program that helps girls grow spiritually, morally, emotionally and physically. I congratulate each and every girl who has made a commitment to this program. I thank all of the girls for taking the road less travelled. I also thank the adults who help with the local troops. Some have not had a child in the program for years, but have stayed active because of their love of scouting. This is a tribute to the goals and precepts of the Girl Scouts of America. I thank all the Scouts for all they do for our parishes, our parishioners and our communities. I ask that you continue to be fine examples to those around you.

LENTEN GUIDELINES: ABSTINENCE— Catholics in the U.S. age 14 and older are obliged to abstain from meat on Ash Wednesday, the Fridays of Lent and Good Friday. The church law forbids use of meat, but does not prohibit eggs, milk products or condiments made with animal fat. PRAYER/ALMSGIVING— Abstinence and fasting should lead Catholics to a deeper prayer life. Almsgiving provides and opportunity for a deeper understanding and response to the needs of the poor.

RCIA: THE SCRUTINIES

We, as a Church community, have the members of the "elect" Jacob Armel, Jason Besterici, Tammy DeFlorio, John Ersick and Casie Overly (those preparing for Baptism). The Scrutinies are celebrated at Mass. They are meant to drive from the elect all that threatens to keep them from Christ in Baptism. The texts that are used to pray over the elect are in fact called "exorcisms." In these rites, the exorcisms address the reality that sin and evil have in our lives that keep us from Christ. They are meant to reveal to the elect the goodness they possess in God, which is strengthened through these rites. The Scrutinies are celebrated after the homily. They include the calling forward of the elect who are then invited to kneel or bow their heads. This is followed by silent prayer, intercessions and prayers of exorcism. Finally, they are welcomed by the community for further reflection on God's Word. Please keep them in your prayers as they journey toward the Sacraments of Initiation at the Easter Vigil.

Please pray for those actively serving in our armed forces:

*Captain Jonathan Lang, USMC
Stephen Shallenberger
Jacob & Alex Shafley
Drew Sheldon*

May God guide & protect them always.

Please pray for the recently deceased: Genevieve Gesinski & Betty Forbes. Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon them. May they rest in peace. Amen.

Join us every Wednesday to pray the
rosary for peace:
11:30 a.m. at Visitation.

Please pray for the wholeness and healing of:
