From the Desk
Fr. Dan

When we think about Christ's Passion and pray the Stations of the Cross, it can very much feel like Jesus is not in charge. It can seem like Jesus is merely a victim of the lies of Jewish authorities, the roar of the crowd, and the cruelty of the Romans. It can seem that Jesus merely lets it happen because He must. This is not how Scripture portrays the Passion narrative. Jesus is the protagonist. He is the one who makes it happen.

Although this is most clear in the Passion in Gospel of John, it is also clear in Mark's Passion that we heard this weekend. Consider the scene where the Sanhedrin brings Jesus to court. It is a complete and utter farse of a trial. They bring all kinds of false witnesses in to lie in testimony against Jesus. In Jewish law, a man could only be put to death if two people witnessed something and testified. All they needed to do is bring in two men whose lies about Jesus agreed. Incredibly, we are told that their testimony did not agree. Many witnesses were brought forward, but none of them could agree. What a debacle! On their own power, the Sanhedrin couldn't even successfully prosecute Jesus.

It wasn't until Jesus Himself spoke up that they could do anything. The high priest asked him if he was the Christ, the son of the Blessed One. Jesus could have remained silent, as he did many times throughout His Passion. He did not here. He speaks up. "I am; and you will see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Power and coming with the clouds of heaven." The Sanhedrin recognizes this as blasphemy and has the evidence they need to bring Jesus to the Romans to be crucified.

In Mark's account, Jesus says very little, and if Jesus doesn't speak up in that moment, the Passion doesn't happen. By including this detail in the story, Mark shows that Jesus is in complete control of the situation. He is not a mere victim of circumstance. He actively chose to suffer for our sake. The Passion does not happen to Christ; Christ chooses and enters into His Passion and makes it a complete self-offering to the Father for us sinners.

Sometimes we can feel like God is not in control. The disciples scattered in the garden because they thought that Jesus had lost control of the situation. It seems at times that worldly powers, evil forces, and the shadow of death can prevent God from doing what He wants to do. Never forget that at the worst moment of human history, God was still in control. And he is still in control today.

*Notes from our Administrator,
Fr. Paul:*

THE UNFOLDING MESSAGE: SOMETHING TO CELEBRATE

Was it appropriate to celebrate Palm Sunday the way it was done by Jesus and His disciples? Raising the question is not merely recognition of the fickleness of the crowd, who switched from "Hosanna" to "Crucify Him" within a few days' time. It is a matter of "When is the right time to celebrate?" or "Do we really have something worth celebrating?"

Palm Sunday did not celebrate what Jesus had accomplished as much as it extolled who Jesus was. The Hosannas were followed by "Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord." God had come to earth in a new way. God was acting to restore some righteousness, some rightness, to the world. The prophets had taught people, using powerful words to challenge and guide them. Jesus came, filled with God's own power to give people something new. Contrary to the pessimistic words of Ecclesiastes, there is something new under the sun. There is hope. God is with us. God is here! The celebration of this day is not a coronation. It is the establishment of a new sense of God's presence. The disciples knew that the Romans still had military control of the land. They knew that some of the religious leaders were still corrupt. But they also knew that God was on their side. Are you and I big enough, mature enough, to celebrate the joy of sharing the work of building a new kind of kingdom, the life that God has planned for us together and independently?

The triumphal entry into Jerusalem was pure joy. It was appropriate to celebrate, celebrate the reality of God's presence! In doing so, we affirm life's goodness. We are still traveling. We do not yet have the fullness of God's rule among us. The Kingdom of God, the reign of God, is always in process, both here and coming. We are called to help bring it into full reality. Enjoy the journey and celebrate!

LENTEN GUIDELINES *Abstinence: Catholics in the U.S. age 14 & older are obliged to abstain from meat on Ash Wednesday, the Fridays of Lent & Good Friday. ## PALM SUNDAY OF THE PASSION OF THE LORD

Because there are four gospels, there are four accounts of the passion of the Lord. John's account is proclaimed every year on Good Friday. Today, the final Sunday of Lent, we hear one of the other three accounts. The vestments this day are red, just as they are on Good Friday.

Most people call today Palm Sunday. It is a day for marching in processions. The gospels tell us that the people waved branches to welcome Jesus into Jerusalem. So today we too wave branches. The 40 days of Lent have been a time to travel in spirit to the holy city of Jerusalem.

Today we enter the city. Any kind of branch can be used in the processions today. Olive branches are traditional because, ever since Noah's flood, they have been symbols of peace and forgiveness. In cooler climates, forsythia bushes, which are related to olives, come into bloom during this season. In most churches, palm branches are blessed and waved today. The Gospel of John mentions them specifically.

In the Middle East, date palm trees grow in the incredible heat. In fact, they need several months of very high temperatures (100 degrees or more) to produce their sweet fruit. In warm climates people plant palms in cemeteries as a sign that life is stronger than death. For the same reason, people in northern countries plant pussy willows and evergreens. Then they cut branches from these plants for the Palm Sunday procession.

In our country, most churches buy palms from florists. But there are places where people gather their own home-grown branches to bring to church. No matter where the palms and branches come from, they are all signs of life and resurrection.

BLESSED PALMS: Palm branches will be blessed and distributed at all Masses this weekend. It is a custom to take palm branches and adorn our crucifixes and holy pictures with them during this season.

There will be ADORATION OF THE BLESSED SACRAMENT in the Visitation grotto following the 7 p.m. Mass on Holy Thursday, March 28, until Night Prayer at 11:45 p.m. Please plan to spend some time before the Blessed Sacrament.

BLESSING OF EASTER FOOD & BASKETS One of the revered Lenten traditions is the blessing of food baskets on Holy Saturday. Baskets will be blessed at 11 a.m. at St. Pius X and at 12:30 p.m. at Visitation.

Since the Easter Vigil can begin no earlier than 8 p.m. in our diocese, there will be no other Mass on Holy Saturday, March 30. Mass will be at 8:15 p.m. at Visitation.

GOOD FRIDAY COLLECTION At the afternoon liturgy on Friday, a special collection will be taken for the upkeep of the Holy Land and to help impoverished people who inhabit this part of the world. You are asked to be generous to this particular cause. Also, we encourage your continued generosity to your parish at Easter. An extra-generous Easter collection will allow us to pay our taxes and diocesan assessments in a timely manner.

THIS WEEK IS THE ONE WEEK IN JESUS' LIFE which we can follow daily. It is a week in which we can walk along with Him in His footsteps. Holy Week can become a week of holiness for each of us. Our celebration during Holy Week offers us uncountable blessings. We can renew our lives reconciling ourselves in confession. Above all, we can celebrate the Triduum on the last days of Holy Week by sharing in the Lord's Supper on Thursday, by standing at the cross with Mary & John during three hours of agony on Friday, & by welcoming the risen Jesus into our lives on Saturday's Light-Vigil of Resurrection. We can make the Gethsemane Pilgrimage by visiting our neighboring parishes on Holy Thursday night to spend time in prayer with our Lord. We can follow the Stations of Our Lord's last hours on Friday afternoon & evening. We can begin our home celebration of Easter by having our food baskets blessed in His name on Saturday. All this we can do, as we welcome the Lord on Palm Sunday to the song of Hosanna.

Please pray for those actively serving in our armed forces:

It consists of readings from Sacred Scripture and the gradual extinguishing of the lights in the Church leaving only one candle burning at the end.
