The community of believers was of one heart and mind, and no one claimed that any of his possessions was his own, but they had everything in common. – Acts 4:32

Some might hear the first reading this weekend and become very uncomfortable, given the popularity of Communism during the last 100 years. It would appear from this passage from Acts that the early church shared everything in common. This does not mean that the early Church was Communist. Because the Church was also “of one mind and heart”, it’s clear that this is a gift of the Holy Spirit granting a unique grace, not the result of a political system. However, this passage should challenge us today regarding what we own and how much.

The Church has long professed something called the universal destination of goods. The ultimate owner of all that exists is God, for He is the Creator. In Genesis, he entrusts the earth to man and tells us to “have dominion” over it. This means that we do not truly own things; we simply have stewardship over them and a responsibility to use them as God intended: to benefit the human race.

At first glance, this would seem like an endorsement of Communist and a condemnation of private property. However, many centuries ago, St. Thomas Aquinas explained that private property is likely the best form of stewardship. Although there are many reasons he gives, the main reason for this is that private property lends itself to works of charity. When I see something as “ours” and give it to someone else, it’s not as a charitable gift as when I see something as “mine” and give it to someone else.

Although the Church does not condemn private property, the early Church as described in Acts 4 invites us to renounce our consumerist culture and to examine how we see our ownership of what we have. Do I see myself as owning property to do whatever I want? Or as being a steward of God’s created things? Do I make use of what I have to build up the kingdom of God and to benefit the common good? Is what I have excessive, and would it be better given to others for their well-being? This uncomfortable reflection should not lead us to Communism but should help us to put what we own into perspective and invite us to be more charitable.

*Notes from our Administrator,
Fr. Paul:*

TODAY, APRIL 7, IS DIVINE MERCY SUNDAY.

On this day people all over the world celebrate the Feast of Divine Mercy. From St. Faustina’s diary, it is clear that this octave Day of Easter is a day chosen by Christ as a day of extraordinary graces, a complete outpouring of His mercy upon all who approach Him with great trust and expectant faith.

Our Lord said to St. Faustina:

Encourage souls to say the chaplet which I have given you...Whoever will recite it will receive great mercy at the hour of death...When they say this chaplet in the presence of the dying, I will stand between my Father and the dying person, not as the just Judge but as the merciful Savior...Priests will recommend it to sinners as their last hope of salvation. Even if there were a sinner most hardened, if he were to recite this chaplet only once, he would receive grace from My infinite mercy. I desire to grant unimaginable graces to those souls who trust in My mercy...Through the chaplet you will obtain everything, if what you ask for is compatible with My will.

A PRAYER FOR DIVINE MERCY

O Greatly Merciful God, Infinite Goodness, today all mankind calls out from the abyss of its misery to Your mercy—to Your compassion, O God; and it is with its mighty voice of misery that it cries out: Gracious God, do not reject the prayer of this earth’s exiles! O Lord, Goodness beyond our understanding, Who are acquainted with our misery through and through and know that by our own power we cannot ascend to You, we implore You, anticipate us with Your grace and keep on increasing Your mercy in us, that we may faithfully do Your holy will all through our life and at death’s hour. Let the omnipotence of your mercy shield us from the darts of our salvation’s enemies, that we may with confidence, as Your children, await Your final coming—that day known to You alone. And we expect to obtain everything promised us by Jesus in spite of all our wretchedness. For Jesus is our Hope: through His merciful Heart as through an open gate, we pass through to heaven. Amen.

THIS MONDAY, APRIL 8, IS THE FEAST OF THE ANNUNCIATION OF THE LORD.

. . . The usual date of this feast is March 25 but since that date was Monday of Holy Week, this year 2024 we celebrate this Feast on April 8. According to the first chapter of Luke’s Gospel, the angel Gabriel came to tell Mary about God’s plan of salvation. The angel announced that Mary was chosen to be the mother of Jesus, the son of God. Mary freely answered, “Here I am, the servant of the Lord.” Despite her puzzlement, she trusted in God.

I would like to take this opportunity to extend to all of you a very grateful and sincere word of thanks for all that you did to make the Lenten season, Holy Week, and Easter such a spiritually and prayerfully rewarding time. The liturgies of Holy Week, the Easter Sunday Masses, the wonderful participation at the blessing of the food baskets made this past liturgical season a holy experience for all of us here at our parishes. I wish to thank all of the ushers, cantors, choir, organists, instrumentalists, lectors, Eucharistic ministers and altar servers for your dedicated help. Thanks to Sheryl for directing the choir, and those who put the Holy Week liturgies together. To the volunteers and staff who helped decorate the churches for Palm Sunday, Holy Week and Easter, I say THANK YOU! Your gift of time was a pleasing and prayerful gift to God.

I also thank you for the generosity you showed to your priests and to the parishes. The cards, gifts of food & candy, and other surprises, showed us how truly blessed we are to be your priests, and we remember each of you at our Masses. I thank you for your gifts to our parishes in the collections of Holy Week. May God bless you always and in all ways and may our parishes continue to grow in the way of the Lord.

WELCOME TO OUR NEWEST MEMBERS Jacob Armel, Jason Besterce, Tammy DeFlorio, John Ersick, Jr. and Casie Overly. At the Easter Vigil on Holy Saturday, we welcomed them to our parishes. We, as parishes, welcome them to our family and look forward to welcoming them wholeheartedly and getting acquainted with them. I do thank Mary and Fr. Dan, our RCIA directors, and Cindy Copeland, for their time and effort in preparing them in the ways of our faith.

TELL US, PLEASE! Help us keep our census up-to-date and our postage down. A crucial part of the continued success of our communication system at our parishes is the constant updating of information about you, our parish family. All mailings, etc., sent out by the parish will be kept accurate if changes of any kind are reported to the office. Our parish staff is doing their best to be aware of changes in parishioner info: but if no one tells them, we can't get a true picture of our parishes. Please help us keep our census accurate by calling the office at 724-547-1911 with any changes. Confidentiality is maintained. Please call Fr. Paul if you are confused about this request. Thank you.

Please pray for those actively serving in our armed forces:

THE MASS: A FAMILY REUNION When families hold a reunion, they usually have a reception and a meal. During the reception, members learn who's at the reunion, what's been happening in their lives and what's in store for their future.

And, during the meal, the family shares their food and themselves further—and they sense their “family-ness” with greater intensity and love. At departure, each member leaves more at one with the family than was felt on arrival.

So it is with the Mass. The welcome, the readings and the homily form the reception, a time to discover who we are, why we're going. And the offertory, Eucharistic Canon, and Communion form the meal, a time to intensify our family heritage in God and each other in the binding love of family. And at the blessing, we go our ways, not separately, but more at one in the family to continue to enjoy and form family in our homes, at work, wherever. From week to week, we are called to unite and reunite in the oneness of the family we now are, the family we shall be forever. This is why we are called together so regularly, not for the sermon or the ceremony, but for the presence of one another in the Father and His people.

FIRST COMMUNION ITEMS St. Emma Gift Shop, located at 100 Harvey Avenue, Greensburg, has a wide variety of First Communion items, including rosaries, scapulars, prayer books, picture frames, crucifixes, bibles and much more, and a selection of new communion dresses. PARISH CEMETERIES

Just a reminder about our parish cemeteries: Although you are free to purchase family graves at any cemetery, we, of course, ask you to consider our own parish cemeteries. Please note that our parish cemeteries policy allows only the use of concrete vaults which may be an option in other cemeteries. Our parish and cemeteries do not receive any proceeds from the sale of any funeral or burial merchandise. Our interest is that the remains of our deceased loved ones are reverently respected. I would strongly suggest that if you have any questions concerning burial practices to please contact one of our local funeral directors. They are professionals who will be able to assist you and answer any questions. Of course, you are free to contact the office at any time. I wish to take this time to thank once again our local funeral directors for their dignity and prayerfulness during our parish funerals and their continued support of our parishes. If you are interested in purchasing lots at any of our cemeteries, please call 724-547-1911.

ONE ADDITIONAL CEMETERIES NOTE: No shrubs or small trees are permitted to be planted in the cemeteries. What may seem “small & cute” eventually turns into “overgrown & hard work” when a family no longer cares for the shrub or tree. Flowers are so much more colorful.

The local St. Pius X St. Vincent de Paul Society exists to assist those experiencing financial hardship due to illness, job loss or other unforeseen circumstances. Assistance is provided based on need, with no regard to religious affiliation. Confidentiality is strictly maintained. If you or someone you know needs a helping hand, please call 724-547-0413.
